Seminar Attendance Requirements for Economics Graduate Students

MA, MS, and PhD students must fulfill a seminar attendance requirement as part of their program in order to complete their degree. The department offers a regular research seminar (ECON890) with seminars held most weeks during the fall and spring semesters.

- MA and MS students must attend at least three seminars in their third semester in the program.
- PhD students must attend at least five seminars in their fourth semester in the program.